Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 13 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Remaining humid with lingering coastal cloud.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry and mostly clear night, but with lingering low cloud around coastal areas and possibly drizzle in the north by dawn. Warm and humid for many, without much in the way of wind to take the edge off. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Monday:
A cloudy start for most, but sunnier spells developing from the north once rain and drizzle fragment southwards, leading to a bright and dry day. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Largely fine on Tuesday, although marginally cooler. Cloudy skies and showers move in overnight and last throughout the period. Risks of thundery showers for the southeast.
